Food and Drink Menu

Dear guests,

The term „Berliner Küche“ „Berlin Kitchen“ is simply a misleading one. The origin of only a few dishes is Berlin itself. The style that has developed over the years in Berlin is personified by giving some dishes a „kick“ which in time would identify many dishes as „Berlin style“. The word „kick“ could also have some social connotations. The emergence of the Berlin cuisine goes back to the era of industrialization. In this era job seeking people and landless farmers from all over Germany and neighbouring countries came to Berlin in a rapidly growing city.

They did however, bring their own way of dealing with things and their own way of producing good food with their own style and flair. Enjoy your evening with us.

Our meals are prepared daily from fresh produce for you by our kitchen team, thus explaining the time taken to prepare your dishes.

Barre

PRIVATBRAUEREI

Barre Bräu Dein Herz erfreut!

Max und Moritz recommend Barre – a private brewery passion!

Barre Pilsener

A Pils with its own character: tangy, elegant and slim – our classic is unique! The bright light pilsner with a strong, finely bitter hop bitterness is widely appreciated beyond the region.

Barre Pilsener nonalcoholic

The nonalcoholic alternative. For those who want to enjoy the spicy taste of Barre Pilsener. Refreshingly tangy the nonalcoholic version convinces with its full-body and offdry hopsnote.

Barre Weizen nonalcoholic

The isotonic thirst quencher. A pleasant aroma, thanks gentle dealcoholization in a full-bodied and fruity flavor. It has fewer calories by destracted alcohol and contains plenty of vitamins.

Kreuzberger Molle, full-bodied Beer

Brewed for special moments. The malty flavoured specialty is less hoppy than a Pilsener with contrasting colours of amber.

Max und Moritz explain Beers – Prost!

Kapuziner Kristallweizen, Crystal wheat beer

The tangy wheat beer with a sparkling character is typical top-fermented fruity and refreshing with a fine semi-sweet, fresh scent and with a slight yeasty fragrance nuance. It has a crystal clear appearance, coupled with a charming taste of a genuine Capuchin wheat beer.

Kapuziner Hefeweizen, Pale wheat beer with fine yeast ... tangy, fruity, with the typical top-fermented note.

Dunkles Kapuziner, Dark wheat beer

The dark, top-fermented Capuchin is our strong and very drinkable specialty. Typical wheat beer with malt-aromatic natural and semi-sweet full-bodied flavour. Finest roasted malts gives this dark wheat beer its appearance and its aromatic flavor.

Mönchshof Schwarzbier

This natural, unfiltered dark beer is moderately hopped with a full-bodied character. Finest dark malts give it its dark colour.

Kulmbacher Edelherb Pilsener

The bright, slender Pilsener with the distinctive, elegant tart hop bitterness. Our recommendation for all lovers of the classic Pilsener taste.

Berliner Pilsner

Bright golden glossy, fine dry – tangy, with balanced hop aroma and dry statements.

The Metropole brand made in Berlin.
